

About Han ArtVenture

Founded in 2022, Han ArtVenture Studio offers creative art lessons to kids from 4-12 years old. The studio aims to inspire children with creative expression and emotional and interpersonal relationship building through art. It is not only about art. It is an experience of observations, sensory, free imaginations, social connections and self-awareness.

Using an open-ended situation method, Mrs. Han trains children with artistic behaviors to express their feelings, imaginations and dreams, most importantly, to express who they are. By introducing art history for kids, students will learn from past and current masters and develop a new perspective to think art, practice art and appreciate art. There is no right or wrong in arts. And remember to have fun!

About Mrs. Han

Starting from drawing comic figures in middle school, Mrs. Han has maintained a life long passion for art and creativity. Her medium of artworks ranges from acrylic, oil, watercolor, alcohol ink, pastels to digital illustrations and other mixed media. Her paintings and artworks are about her interpretation and expressions of life, different stages of time and places she lived and is living, her hometown, people and things she met and saw in her daily life, and the emotions evoked by these experiences. She accomplished credited art lessons from Montgomery College and got certificate in illustration from online program with Jinriyouxue Academy.

Mrs. Han is also an active member of Montgomery Art Association, exhibiting in local events and participating in field trip painting and sketching events. By introducing traditional Chinese art patterns and mythical creatures in Chinese literacy, such as "Shan Hai Jing," Mrs. Han has developed her own face painting style and is a popular face painting artist in various events in DMV area. She also volunteered at the National Gallery of Art in DC, assisting visitors from all of the globe.

Her acrylic painting "Sailor Moon" won honorably mentioned in 2024 Montgomery County ComicCon art competition, adult group. Her alcohol ink and resin art "Impression of Beijing" won 2nd place in 2022 Water Cube Cup International art competition, adult group.

Mrs. Han enjoys working with kids. Besides teaching arts, she runs PTA Reflection Art program at local elementary school, volunteering in school activities, coaching local school basketball teams. Creativity and imaginations are sources of inspirations for artworks. In her spare time, Mrs. Han also enjoys writing children's books, historical stories, novels, poems and song lyrics, of course, visiting art museums in DC and locally.
